

Open Position: Director or Senior Director of Molecular Engineering

About the Company:

seqWell is revolutionizing sequencing sample prep to unlock the full potential of today's NextGen DNA sequencing instruments. Our company's mission is to increase the productivity, quality and access to sequencing by offering advanced reagent-based solutions in kits for a wide range of applications. The plexWell™ platform is a truly multiplexed workflow that allows for simple, easy library prep for 100s to 1000s of distinct samples. seqWell's talented team of scientists is dedicated to creating transformative solutions for everyday challenges encountered in modern DNA sequencing.

Position Type: Full-time Employee
